

Where and how do I find a partner?

It can be difficult to figure out who will be a good partner and how to get in contact with another Nordic organisation. Therefore, we have made a list of all organisations that have participated in a NORÐ activity. Here you will get an overview of which organisations are to be found in the different countries, as well as their contact information and a small summary of what the organisations work with and do.

Your task is now to read through the list and choose three organisations from a different Nordic country that could be an interesting or possible partner for the partnership idea you have been working on in the two previous tasks.

When you have made a list of three possible partners, then you shall write a small paragraph about your idea and try to 'pitch' it to the chosen organisations.

Here you could have in mind:

- What is important for the other organisation to know about the idea?
- How will it benefit them? And how does the idea match and fit into the work they do as an organisation?
- Why would they be a good partner? And why would you be a good partner?
- Why is your idea important and relevant to work together on?
